REPORT.

STATE OF MICHIGAN,
ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OFFICE, }
Lansing, December 31, 1884.

To His Excellency, Russell A. Alger, Governor,

DEAR SIR:—In obedience to the duty imposed by law, I have the honor to submit the following report of the business transacted by the Attorney General during the preceding year, including abstracts of the reports of the Prosecuting Attorneys of the various counties of the State, which show the criminal prosecutions, penalties inflicted, and other items pertaining to the administration of justice.

Schedule "A" gives a full report of all cases brought to the Supreme Court, from Circuit Courts and Recorders' Courts of cities, on exceptions or error, which are summarized as follows:

Adultery, number of cases.....	3	Perjury.....	1
Assault with intent to murder.....	3	Rape.....	1
Bastardy.....	1	Robbery.....	1
Burglary.....	2	Resisting an officer.....	1
Breach of the peace.....	1	Violation of Liquor Law.....	11
Forgery.....	2
Larceny.....	11	Total number of cases.....	41
Murder.....	3

Schedule "B" contains a list of Chancery Cases commenced in the various Circuit Courts in Chancery, in which the State was to a greater or less extent interested, and which were referred to the Prosecuting Attorneys of such counties, in accordance with the established usage of this department.

Schedule "C" is a list of quo warranto and other proceedings authorized by me, but conducted by other attorneys, as the matters in contest were of local interest.

Proceedings were taken by the Attorney General in the Supreme Court to test the legality of the corporate existence of the Detroit, Grand Haven & Milwaukee Railway Co., and if possible to compel the company to reorganize under the general railroad law of the State, thereby greatly increasing the taxes to which the State would be entitled. It was also hoped that these proceedings would settle the many vexed questions which had so frequently been referred to the Standing and Special Railroad Committees of the Legislature, thus entailing great expense and ever remaining unsettled.

The decision of the Court, while adverse to the State and its interests, has settled the several questions so often raised by legislative proceedings.

Two chancery suits were instituted in Claire county by Charles H. Hackley against Andrew E. Mack, the sheriff of that county, to restrain him from the collection of certain railroad taxes, amounting to about six thousand dollars, due the State, and for which the warrant of the Auditor General was issued. These cases have been argued and submitted to the Court.

The proceedings by interpleader in the matter of the note for $2,200, given by one Miner to the Commissioner of the State Land Office, and which note was obtained by Hon. J. D. Turnbull for 1,100, on the representation that Mr. Miner would pay only $1,100, and which was appealed from Alpena Circuit in Chancery, where the decree was against the Commissioner, has been argued in the Supreme Court and a decree rendered in favor of the State.

At the date of this report two important cases against the Auditor General were pending in the Washtenaw Circuit Court in Chancery, brought by foreign corporations to restrain the Auditor General from the collection of certain specific taxes on through freight companies. These cases raise grave constitutional questions and are of great interest to the State in the matter of taxation, and will, without doubt, find their way to the Supreme Court of this State, and may go to the Federal Supreme Court for final determination.

The case of the State vs. The Iron Cliffs Company, involving the constitutionality of the new tax law of 1882, was argued before the Supreme Court, on appeal from Marquette county in Chancery, where the law had been sustained, but the Court were equally divided, leaving the validity of the act an open question, and calling for action by the Legislature to remove the doubtful features of the law, if it can be done without imperiling the whole act. The most serious objection is that no personal service is given the resident delinquent, either in the proceedings for a decree, or before sale, thereby imperiling the right of the innocent, or the ignorant, who may not know the law, and who may not have seen the description of his property among thousands in one of the many county papers. If constitutional, this feature of the act is one of great danger to the rights of individuals, and should, I think, be amended, so that before a final forfeiture, personal notice should be served on the resident delinquent. Other objections are raised to the act such as that "it cuts off the right of trial by jury," "it makes the decision of the Circuit Judge on the admission or exclusion of evidence final, thus cutting off the right of appeal, except as the judge may permit," and that "the members of the tax commission were permitted to sit and act as members of the Legislature, except to vote," etc., all of which questions I think demand the serious attention of the law-making power of the State.

Several other cases affecting the departments, of minor importance, have been heard and determined by the Court, but are not deemed of sufficient importance to set forth in detail.

My four years of service to the State have been years of severe labor. The cases in which the Lake Shore and Michigan Southern Railroad, the Chicago & Northwestern, the Detroit, Grand Haven & Milwaukee, and the Erie & Kalamazoo Railroad Companies were parties, involved grave questions and a very great amount of labor, and while the decisions therein have been generally adverse to the State, they have settled and put at rest questions which long agitated the Legislatures of the State, and open the way for the passage of such acts as will remedy some of the existing evils in our railroad legislation, and will tend to equalize the burdens of the different railroad corporations doing business therein.

The above with the great number of State cases, the large correspondence of the office and the numerous opinions I have been called upon to write, have made my four years a period of great labor, taking my whole time and attention, and I now retire with the consciousness that I have done my duty faithfully and as well as in me lies.

In conclusion, I beg to express my thanks to the heads of the several departments of State, for their courtesy and the helpful kindness which they have ever shown me. To my chief clerk, Mrs. Mary A. Miles, without whose efficient aid the business of the office would not be in its present orderly condition, I also tender my earnest and sincere thanks.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

J. J. VAN RIPER,
Attorney General.

SCHEDULE A.

JANUARY TERM.

The People vs. Samuel A. Walling. Exceptions from Kent. Walling was prosecuted for soliciting and taking orders from citizens of this State for spirituous and intoxicating liquors, to be shipped into this State and supplied at wholesale by a co-partnership not a resident of this State, nor having its principal place of business therein, without having first paid the tax required by law. Held, that the imposition of the tax upon the business of selling intoxicating liquors supplied from manufacturers out of the State is not a license, and is not a violation of the constitution of this State. It is a restraint upon such traffic through the police power of the State. The statute simply taxes the person who carries on the business here by making sales in this State, and is not in conflict with the Federal Constitution. Conviction affirmed. This cause has since been removed to the Supreme Court of the United States, argued, submitted, and reversed.

The People vs. John K. Minnoch. Error to Oakland. Minnoch was convicted of selling liquor without giving bond as required by laws of 1881. There was nothing in the record except the complaint, to identify the charge. Judgment reversed and prisoner discharged without day.

The People vs. Henry Kropp. Error to Leelanaw. Convicted of selling liquor without giving bond. Conviction affirmed.

The People vs. James Roby. Exceptions from Allegan. Roby was convicted of keeping his bar open on Sunday. In this case the offense consists in the negative act of not keeping the saloon closed. Conviction affirmed.

The People vs. Benton Husted and Frank Parish. Exceptions from Clare. Defendants were convicted of a violation of the liquor law in not closing their saloon at 9 o'clock at night. Conviction sustained.

The People vs. Henry Blake. Error to Ottawa. Respondent was charged with keeping his saloon open on Sunday and convicted. Held that the law requires the proprietor to see to it at his peril that his saloon is closed on Sundays and that no business is carried on therein on that day.

The People vs. Frank Bauman. Error to Kalamazoo. The defendant was convicted of keeping his saloon open on the fourth day of July, 1882. In obtaining a jury two of the three talesmen summoned were over 60 years of age; this was good ground for challenge for cause, but not to the array. The evidence is ample sufficient to go to the jury, and to sustain their verdict. Affirmed.

The People vs. John Warner. Exceptions from Gratiot. Respondent was charged with committing an assault upon a constable with intent to resist the officers in the service of an execution, and was convicted of simple assault. Affirmed.

The People vs. John Anderson. Exceptions from Recorder's Court, Detroit. Anderson was charged with larceny from the person. Conviction sustained.

The People vs. John Moore. Exceptions from Recorder's Court, Detroit. Respondent was convicted of larceny from the person. Conviction sustained.

The People vs. William Henshaw. Exceptions from Recorder's Court, of Detroit. Henshaw was convicted of larceny from the person. Conviction sustained.

The People vs. Welton Francis. Exceptions from Kent. Francis was convicted of the larceny of a pair of horses and harness. Affirmed.

The People vs. James McMillen. Error to Schoolcraft. Respondent was complained of and examined on the charge of uttering a forged check. He was found guilty and sentenced for the specific crime of forgery, a crime for which he was not examined. Reversed and a new trial ordered.

The People vs. Michael Reilly. Error to Recorder's Court of Detroit. Respondent was convicted of the crime of robbery. Conviction affirmed. The opinions of the Court differ upon the question, whether by releasing the prisoner upon his own recognizance for many months, the Court lost power to sentence him.

The People vs. Riley Davis. Error to Macomb. Respondent was convicted of adultery. Verdict set aside and a new trial granted.

The People vs. James Curtis. Error to Cass. Curtis was convicted of murder in the second degree. Judgment reversed and a new trial ordered.

The People vs. Matthew Millard. Error to Ionia. Respondent was convicted of the murder of his wife by poisoning. Numerous exceptions to the rulings of the Circuit Judge were passed upon by the Court, but they, as well as those in the case preceding, would require too extended a notice for insertion in this report, and can best be learned by reference to the opinion of the Court. The judgment was reversed and the prisoner remanded to Ionia county for further action.

The Chicago & Northwestern Railway Co. vs. W. Irving Latimer, Auditor General of Michigan. Appeal from Ingham in Chancery. The Commissioner of Railroads, believing the complainant to be liable to taxation under the general railroad law of the State, assessed the company upon its gross receipts as provided by said law, for several years prior thereto, making an additional tax of about $120,000, to which it was claimed the State was entitled. Complainant filed a bill to restrain the Auditor General from the collection thereof, and asked that the injunction be made perpetual, which was denied in the Court below, and the case was thereupon carried to the Supreme Court on appeal. The Supreme Court held that the complainant was entitled to the relief prayed, and that it should be taxed on the same basis as that from 1873 to 1878. Several important questions were raised on the hearing of this case affecting the legal status of companies lying partly within and partly without the State, arising from the consolidation of such companies, but they are of too extended a nature for more than a mere reference thereto.

APRIL TERM.

The People vs. Roswell C. Sharp. Error to Shiawassee. Respondent was convicted of the forgery and uttering of a note and mortgage of the amount of $500, with intent to defraud James A. Beebe. Judgment affirmed.

The People vs. Thomas Bartz. Exceptions from Recorder's Court of Detroit. Bartz was convicted of knowingly and willfully assaulting Frank Lewis, of the metropolitan police department, by discharging at and towards him a revolver. Conviction sustained.

The People vs. Walter Dann. Error to Ionia. Respondent was convicted of an assault with intent to murder Riley Wilson. Judgment reversed and respondent discharged.

The People vs. Alfred Town. Error to Lenawee. Respondent was charged with the larceny of a horse, harness, cattle, buffalo robe, two blankets and a whip. Respondent pleaded guilty and was sentenced to State prison for eight years. The judgment was reversed as to the excess of punishment and affirmed as to the remainder.

The People vs. James White. Certiorari to Circuit Court. White was convicted of bastardy. Reversed and new trial ordered.

The People vs. Charles Brown. Error to Wayne. Respondent was convicted of rape. Judgment affirmed.

The People vs. John Brown. Error to Kalamazoo. Respondent was convicted of perjury committed as a witness in his own behalf. A petition signed by 35 citizens was presented to the Court in behalf of Brown. Held that the Court is not the pardoning power, and a community is in error that petitions the bench in favor of a convicted criminal. Judgment affirmed.

The People vs. Dennis Heffron. Error to Schoolcraft. Heffron was convicted of selling liquor without giving bonds. Judgment set aside and proceedings quashed.

The People vs. Abram Hendrickson. Error to Berrien. Defendant was charged with the crime of adultery. Judgment reversed and a new trial granted.

The People vs. James Harding. Exceptions from Recorder's Court, Detroit. Harding was convicted of larceny from a store in the day time. Held that the law constituting a board of jury commissioners is not unconstitutional. It is competent for the Legislature, acting for the State, to discontinue the use of local organizations and create new officers or agencies for the purpose, and to elect or appoint persons to fill such offices in such manner as to them shall seem best. Conviction sustained.

The State vs. The Iron Cliffs Company. Appeal from Marquette, in Chancery. Chief Justice Cooley and Mr. Justice Champlin held that proceedings should be sustained. Mr. Justice Campbell and Mr. Justice Sherwood dissented.

Harris Bloom, petition in habeas corpus from Police Court of Detroit. Petitioner discharged from Detroit House of Correction.

Charles P. Sweet vs. Minor S. Newell, Commissioner State Land Office. Mandamus. Writ granted.

JUNE TERM.

The People vs. James Carroll. Error to Superior Court of Grand Rapids. Respondent was convicted of burglary and larceny. Judgment affirmed.

The People vs. Henry Blake. Certiorari to Ottawa. Held that when a person convicted before a justice of the peace procures the removal of his cause into a court of record, he comes under the practice of the rules of that court, and cannot invoke delays of his own procurement to get rid of that jurisdiction. Affirmed.

The People vs. Augustus G. Cole. Error to Oakland. Cole was convicted of larceny of property exceeding $25 in value. Judgment affirmed.

The People vs. James Carroll. Error to Superior Court of Grand Rapids. Held, that possession of stolen goods may be shown in connection with other evidence, upon a prosecution for burglary. Affirmed.

OCTOBER TERM.

The People vs. George Butler. Error to Newaygo. Respondent was convicted of statutory burglary from a store, and sentenced to 12 years in State prison. There was no testimony that he committed it. In view of the insufficiency of evidence in this case, judgment was reversed and a new trial ordered, and the prisoner discharged from State prison and admitted to recognize for himself without sureties in the sum of $100 for his appearance in the Court below.

The People vs. Fred. J. Wallin. Error to Saginaw. Wallin was convicted of robbery. Conviction affirmed.

The People vs. Daniel F. Comstock. Exceptions from Mecosta. Comstock was convicted of an assault with intent to murder Nicholas Drew. Conviction reversed and set aside and respondent discharged.

The People vs. George Wilson. Error to Recorder's Court of Detroit. Respondent was convicted of the murder of Alonzo E. Bullard, a policeman of the city of Detroit. The arrest without warrant in this case was justifiable, the evidence does not make out a case of killing of the officer in self defense, and the conviction is affirmed.

The People vs. John F. Sweeney. Error to Saginaw. Sweeney was convicted of an assault with intent to kill and murder Jacob Jonson. Judgment reversed and a new trial granted.

The People vs. Madison Dalrymple. Exceptions from Berrien. The Attorney General declined to support the conviction in this case. The prosecution was for adultery, and could only have been instituted on the complaint of respondent's wife. How. §9279. The conviction set aside and the respondent discharged.

The People vs. Thomas W. D. Watling. Error to Ingham. Judgment reversed and defendant discharged.

John S. Minor vs. Charles Bewick et. al. Appeal from Alpena in Chancery. The decree in the Court below was reversed and decree rendered in favor of the State for about $2,200.

The People ex rel. Attorney General vs. James F. Joy et al.

At the request of Governor Begole proceedings in this case by quo warranto were commenced for the purpose of settling the several vexed questions relative to the legal status of the Detroit, Grand Haven & Milwaukee Railway Company which had so frequently been the subject of consideration before Legislative Committees, and as often reported as proper matter for the Courts to determine.

The Court held that the Detroit, Grand Haven & Milwaukee Railway Company was a lawful corporation, and as such and under its present charter, was authorized to maintain and operate its line of road from Pontiac to Grand Haven.

The People vs. The Erie & Kalamazoo Railway.

Leave was asked the Court to file an information in the nature of a quo warranto against this company, for a forfeiture of their charter, because of a failure to operate their road through the village of Palmyra and for several miles beyond, or to give to the people of that village the rights to which they were legally entitled.

Owing to the severity of the penalty leave was not granted by the Court, but, after thorough argument, several opinions were filed which indicate very clearly that the safe course for the defendant is to operate its road through Palmyra, and to do whatever its charter requires in the premises.

It is thought no further action will be needed.

SCHEDULE B.

Maurice Paine vs. Minor S. Newell. August 19, 1884, received subpoena and injunction in the above entitled case, and referred the same to prosecuting attorney of Muskegon county.

Fargo, President of Merchants' Dispatch Company, vs. the Auditor General. Washtenaw Circuit in Chancery. Now pending.

The National Car Company vs. the Auditor General of Michigan. Pending.

SCHEDULE C.

The People ex rel. John A. Ter Vree et al., Relator, vs. Hendrick Greerings et al., Respondent. Sustained.

The People ex rel. Hann Brock et al. Relator, vs. Tennis Keppel et al., Respondents. Sustained.

Robert W. Dullam, Relator, vs. James C. Willson, Respondent. Quo Warranto.

In this matter the question of the extent of the Governor's power to remove State officers without a hearing, arose, and it was held by the Court that the power of removal existed only for the specific causes mentioned in the constitution, and that the incumbent was entitled to a copy of the charges relied on, and a time and opportunity for hearing and to make his defense.

It was also held that the Governor in passing upon charges exercised judicial powers.

In this case the Supreme Court sustained the Attorney General in his opinion that the attempted removal by Governor Begole of James C. Willson, trustee of the Michigan Institute for Educating the Deaf, Dumb, and Blind, was unconstitutional and void.
